Galloway's New "Planting" Contest

Try It--You May Win $500

These RULES Must Be Observed

1. Any person, man, woman or child in the United States proper and not connected with Galloway Bros. Co. may enter this contest.

2. The contest closes Midnight, July 4th, 1923. No answers to this contest will be accepted after this date.

3. The answer with the largest list of words which correctly name objects shown in the picture of "planting scene" reproduced in this circular wins first prize. Each separate object listed counts as one point in the total score. The answer with the second largest number of points wins second prize and so on down for each successive prize.

4. Only objects—as defined by Webster's Unabridged Dictionary—are acceptable. For example, "Dog" is an object while "tail," "ears," "nose," etc., are parts of an object and will not be counted. The same applies to machines, implements, etc.

5. In each case the amount of the prize will be determined according to the qualification table given on the right.

6. All objects in the picture are clearly shown and are found in Webster's Unabridged Dictionary. All objects that appear more than once should be written in plural form and will only count as one object. All objects having more than one common name, such as Mule or Donkey, house or home, etc., will be counted as one object, either synonym will be counted as correct. Obsolete, foreign and slang names and expressions or given names of people are not permissible. Compound and hyphenated words will be accepted. Flowers and vegetables are considered as separate objects, not as a group, and must be named according to the common names of the varieties shown, for example, instead of simply listing "Flowers" and "Vegetables," varieties such as "Sun-flowers," "Bleeding hearts," "Cabbage," "Radishes," etc., should be listed. All animals, birds and poultry must be listed by common names instead of classifying as "Live stock," "poultry," etc. Incorrect names count one point against the score of the contestant.

7. The winning list will be determined by all names of objects submitted by contestants and not controlled by any predetermined list or "master" list.

8. Only one prize will be awarded in any one household, but all members of the household may assist in the solution.

9. Write words on only one side of the sheet, using contest blank below to begin with, if additional space or sheets are used, write on separate sheets, placing name and address at top of each sheet. Number each word consecutively.

10. In the case of ties, for any prize offered, the full amount of the prize will be given each tying contestant.

11. In all cases, contestant agrees to abide by the decisions of the judges in their awarding of prizes.

12. Prizes will be awarded as soon as possible after the closing date of the contest, at which time the winning list will be published in special announcement.

I Will Give You $500

If You Send Me the Most Correct and Complete List of Objects Shown in This Picture--Interesting--Lots of Fun

That looks mighty easy to do. The easiest way I know of to earn $500 in cash. But it means exactly what it says—$500 FREE—first prize—if you send me the largest and nearest correct list of objects shown in the picture. Some one is going to have $500 to spend. It doesn't depend on luck either, but on how good your eyes are. The artist who made this picture saw every object so if you concentrate you will too. Every object is the kind you are likely to see around any farm. All of them are familiar to everyone. Start now to make up your list of names. Look at the 64 big cash prizes to be awarded in this contest listed on the inside of this circular.

WHOA! Stop Right Here

"Here is a contest you can feel safe in entering. It is not like other 'puzzle ads.' I don't approve of 'stunts' to palm off articles on the public at high prices. I make a lot of new friends out of these contests and get a lot of fun out of them myself. That is why I can afford to get them up. I have never made friends who did not become good customers, too.

If you get the highest score you win. There will be no doubt of the real winners. Everything is plain and easy. Send me your seed order—large or small—and have some good, wholesome fun thrown in, with a chance at making more money than you ever made before in such a short time.

BILL GALLOWAY, Pres.

It's Easy to Win a Prize

Think of the things you could do with $500.
